

As a former newspaper editor, I realize the importance of independent voices in the media. A diverse media is a matter of free speech.